

Oneness Co-creation

There is much talk of oneness, and the concepts of integration and ecology help us understand the workings of that oneness. However, there is a direct perception of that oneness that can descend upon us as grace from heaven, and it is striking, powerful and unmistakable. If you have not experienced this spontaneously, then there is a way to achieve it by deep meditation through the heart.

The divine creative principle works through the heart, and all life and form is the product of that divine creativity. God creates all and is in all places, dimensions and beings of consciousness, as a total Life. We are a part of God, not just separate “children of God”, but integral in the one Being. Hence we can touch the oneness by knowing that we are God, and opening ourselves to the personal truth of the living God as we meditate through the heart. Our meditative oneness in God frees us into awareness of potent co-creation, as we have both the oneness and our individual specks of consciousness. This is the design of God’s creation.

The great diversity of God, or Life, is God creating God. We are all individually and collectively God, working together to create God. The “children of God” are aspects of God in the creation stream that create new Life and its experience, new growth and evolution, and new wisdom and light in God. All that “is” is God. As God, I ask myself “what do I most wish to create”? The love, the beauty, the joy come to mind, and all the systems and energies and beings, creating more. All the many universes, dimensions and schools are there to play with. I am love, in all, of all, creating all. As love, even in the schools of pain and death, we work together to create the beloved.

We are God. We choose to experience that which will create greater power of love-wisdom and joy. We experience our team work and harmony in achievement. We reach above and below and around us, for we are one. Our brothers and sisters of space, the masters of the wisdom on Earth, the angels and Nature of our lives are all one, all God, all Love. Yes, there are schools of conflict and pain, where learning is rapid and concrete, never to be forgotten in the mysterious path of enlightenment. For God is enlightening God, creating new Life, new joy, new power.

The purpose is endless.
You are God, you choose.

Try this meditation. To do so it is important that you know that you are a part of the living God, totally at one in God, with All in your true self. In your meditation focus powerfully on the heart, and release the self into the living presence of God. Have patience. Allow the divine magnificence that is beyond your everyday consciousness to be you as living Love. With practice that Oneness and all-pervading Love, will become your everyday life and being.
